An Evening Dinner Talk with Prof Jean-Francois Roulet

Composite Restorations, where are we today?

Composites have evolved over the years to a truly universal restorative material. In combination with adhesive technology, it is possible to make tooth colored, virtually invisible restorations which on top are minimally invasive.

The lecture will focus on understanding new technologies and material characteristics, using appropriate treatment philosophy and correct application techniques for successful placement of aesthetic restorations with good longevity.

Prof Roulet is currently Professor of the Department of Restorative Dental Sciences at the University of Florida, College of Dentistry, Gainesville Florida USA. He earned his D.D.S. in 1974 from the University Of Bern School Of Dentistry in Switzerland and immediately began his academic teaching career as a lecturer at the University of Bern. Since then he has taught at institutions in Switzerland, Australia, Germany, Italy and the United States. He has been Associate Dean and Dean of the Dental School of the Freie Universitaet, Berlin; chair of the Department of Operative and Preventative Dentistry and Endodontics at Charit and eacute; Berlin, the Medical Faculty of the Humboldt University in Berlin, Germany. For the nine years prior to joining University of Florida, Dr. Roulet was director of the Department of Research and Development / Clinical at Ivoclar Vivadent.
